”Same DNA. Different mood.”

Five colours. One world.

Every ATOM post is built from this exact palette — no additions, no substitutions. Deep anchor □ mid field □ textured neutral □ warm accent. This is entirely ATOM's own colour world.

— COLOUR USAGE

COLOUR	USE WHEN	TYPE ON TOP	NEVER
● Deep Moss	Product, founder, night posts	Chalk or Concrete text. Ember accent.	As accent. Mixed with pure black.
● Forest	Anime/fandom, carousel dark slides	Chalk or Concrete. Ember sparingly.	Light-bg posts. Back-to-back with Moss.
● Concrete	Dividers, texture, carousel fills	Deep Moss text only. Never light text.	Full-post bg more than once per 6 posts.
○ Chalk	Text posts, Mode C, quote posts	Deep Moss text. One Ember accent.	Pair with Forest. Use pure white #FFF.
● Ember	One accent element per post only	Never a background — accent on top only.	Background fill. More than 1 use per post.

DARK Moss + Ember tag Dark posts, pill border accent	TEXTURE Concrete + Moss Carousel mid-cards, dividers	WARM Forest + Chalk Festive, gifting, personality

Three fonts. Three jobs. Never swap.

Cormorant handles emotional weight. Carlito carries the conversation. Liberation Mono brings precision and brand code. They never trade roles.

DISPLAY · EMOTIONAL · HEADLINES

there are two kinds of gifts.
"I actually know you."

Cormorant Garamond — Bold 700 + Italic 400 | Headlines, big statements, Mode C editorial

XL / 56–72px	Cover title, carousel chapter header
LG / 32–44px	Post headline, primary statement
MD / 20–28px	Supporting quote, carousel subtitle — use Italic weight
SM / 14–18px	Caption opener, design name reveal

BODY · CONVERSATIONAL · CAPTIONS

"the padhaku starter pack: three highlighters,
five alarms (none of which will stop them),
the audacity to call it a personality."

Carlito / Sans — Regular & Bold | Caption body, Mode A & B posts, carousel slide text

Lead / 16–18px	Opening line of caption — Medium weight
Body / 13–15px	Main caption body copy — Regular weight
Small / 11–13px	Supporting notes, carousel subtitle body

PRECISION · CODE · BRAND MARK

01. 02. 03. 04. 05.

⦿ @ATOMBIOTIC · DESIGN DROP · DESI SLANG SERIES

Liberation Mono | Post numbers, handle tag, category labels, hex codes

Post numbers	Top-left, 9–11px, opacity 35–40%. Format: 01. always with full stop.
Handle tag	⦿ @atombiotic — bottom-right pill, 8–9px, border not filled.
Labels	Category tags top-right, all-caps, 7–8px, letter-spacing 0.14em.

The atoms of every post.

These components appear in every single ATOM post regardless of type or format. They are what makes the grid feel like one brand. Non-negotiable.

POST NUMBER

01. 02. 03.

DM Mono 500 weight. Always top-left. Opacity 35–40% max. Format: 01. with full stop always. Signals continuity — these posts belong to one world.

EMBER ACCENT RULES

Horizontal — before headline

Vertical bar — left edge

Dot — section marker

ATOM Single word underline

One ember element per post only. Never combine two. This is the warmth signal — direct the eye to exactly one thing.

CONCRETE TEXTURE

Grain texture in Concrete (#D4CFC6) referencing the actual planter material. For AI generation: "gritty concrete texture, muted warm grey, slight grain." Use as bg overlay, carousel divider, or texture strip.

HANDLE PILL

@atombiotic on Chalk

@atombiotic on Moss

@atombiotic on Forest

CORNER BRACKET MARKS

Four L-shaped marks frame the post. Width/height 14px. Stroke 1.5px. Opacity 25–35%. Use all four, or diagonal pair (TL+BR). Gives measured, editorial feeling.

THE BUILD DEST SLANG

NEW *

Top-right, opposite post number. Mono, all-caps, 7–8px. Same pill as handle. Ember-border NEW ★ reserved for actual design launches only.

SECTION DIVIDER LINE

0.5px rule in Concrete or Chalk-dim. Between sections, below post number, or as spacing anchor. Max 2 dividers per post. Never decorative — only functional.

Four templates. Infinite posts.

Every ATOM post maps to one of these four structures. Background rotates. Type system stays constant. Elements travel. That's what creates grid cohesion.

Template 1

Chalk bg. Mode C editorial. No product.

Template 2

Moss bg. Product reveal. AI planter centred.

Template 3

Forest bg. Anime, F1, music posts.

Template 4

Concrete bg. Mode B founder posts.

VOICE MODES — QUICK REFERENCE

MODE A — WITTY

Punchy, 1–4 lines, culturally aware. Natural Hinglish when it fits. Punchline at end. Makes someone tag a specific friend.

MODE B — FOUNDER

Specific thing that happened. No hustle energy. Medium-long. Ends with a question that invites the audience in.

MODE C — EDITORIAL

Very short, 1–3 lines. Strong opinion. Writes for the save, not the like. White space is intentional.

What ATOM is. What it isn't.

ALWAYS DO

- Use the five-colour palette. No additions, ever.
- Post number top-left, handle pill bottom-right. Every post.
- One ember accent element per post — rule, underline, or dot.
- Rotate backgrounds — never same two posts in a row.
- Cormorant for headlines. Sans for captions. Mono for labels.
- Write specifically. "colour-coded notes friend" beats "studious friend".
- Hinglish only when the Hindi word is genuinely better.
- Brief Gemini: "Dark forest green, concrete grey, chalk field, one ember accent."

NEVER DO

- Use pure white (#FFF) or pure black (#000) as background.
- Use Ember as a background fill — ever. It's an accent.
- Put the same background on two consecutive grid posts.
- Use: luxury, premium, unique, innovative, eco-friendly.
- Post "here is our pot, buy it" — every post needs an angle.
- Mix fonts — Cormorant for captions or Sans for headlines.
- Jump on trends with no connection to ATOM's design world.
- Lead with "plants make spaces better" — that's a nursery, not ATOM.

How the feed reads as one.

Never use the same background on two consecutive posts. The four-step rotation creates rhythm and prevents visual fatigue. This is the single most important grid rule.
